Habitability Laws: What You Must Know

Under Colorado law, landlords must act fast when serious issues arise:

- 72 hours to inform tenants if the issue affects health/safety
- 7 days to make major repairs
- If you don't respond in time, tenants can escalate and penalties may follow.

 Tip: Keep your reserve fund healthy so you can act quickly.

 Contact Terri if you need to increase your reserve or set aside emergency funds.

Spring Tips for Smarter Property Care

Spring in Colorado brings sunshine, snowmelt, and surprise storms which means now's the time to prep your property before summer hits. Here's what smart landlords check:

Inspect for Freeze-Thaw Damage

- Winter weather can crack foundations, sidewalks, and driveways. Look for shifting concrete or pooling water and early fixes save thousands later.

Clear Gutters & Downspouts

- Melting snow and spring rains need a clear exit. Clogged gutters = roof leaks, mold, and foundation damage.

Service the HVAC System

- Schedule your AC checkup now before the summer heat hits. Replace filters, check refrigerant, and confirm all vents are clean and blowing cold.

Legal Reminders & Program Changes

TANF, T-SNAP, and Section 8 Housing Updates:

- If your tenants are protected under the CARES Act, 30 days' notice is required for all demands.
- Stay compliant, especially if your renters receive housing assistance.
